TRADITION FOUR (Long Form)

With respect to its own affairs, each A.A. group should be responsible to no other authority than its own conscience. But when its plans concern the welfare of neighboring groups also, those groups ought to be consulted. And no group, regional committee, or individual should ever take any action that might greatly affect A.A. as a whole without conferring with the trustees of the General Service Board. On such issues our common welfare is paramount.

"One of the first insights Dr. Bob and I shared was that all true communication must be founded on mutual need. Never could we talk down to anyone, certainly not to a fellow alcoholic. We saw that each sponsor would have to humbly admit his own needs as clearly as those of his prospect."

4th STEP

This Step comes after we have done the other three steps, admitting our powerlessness over alcohol, coming to believe that a Higher Power can restore us to sanity and making a decision to turn our will and lives over to the care of a Higher Power, of our understanding. In the Fourth Step, fearless and searching describes that one must address the truth about themselves, not just minor infractions, but the secrets that make one break out into a cold sweat when thinking about putting them on paper. But these are the very things which will set us free in recovery and give us the courage and strength to complete the remaining steps.

"We found that all progress, material or spiritual, consisted of finding out what our responsibilities actually were and then proceeding to do something about them ... We found that we didn't always have to be driven by our own discomforts as, more willingly, we picked up the burdens of living and growing ... We discovered that full acceptance and action upon any clear-cut responsibility almost invariably made for true happiness and peace of mind."

Heard it through the Grapevine

What is “Grapevine”? Grapevine is AA’s official magazine. It is also known as our “Meeting in Print”! It’s a great 12th step tool and makes a great gift for sponsees.

Grapevine is fully self-supporting financially through subscriptions and its content from our articles, cartoons, jokes and photographs! It’s the pulse of AA right now!

Does your group have a Grapevine rep?

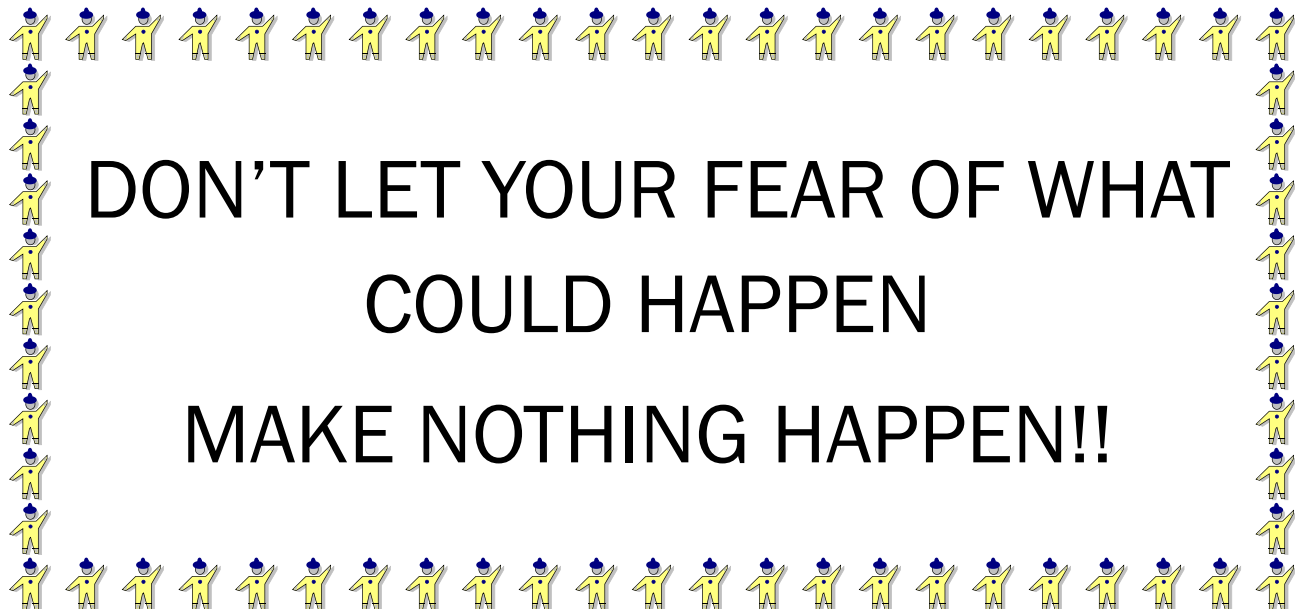

What does a Grapevine rep do? They are the link between the AA Grapevine and their homegroup. Inform them how and where to submit a story, help order subscription(s), collect old issues for 12th step committee work and update the group of what’s happening in the world of Grapevine.

If you want to be your group’s Grapevine rep., a member of the Grapevine Committee or more information in general, contact Karen M. cmte.grapevine@gmail.com or go to <http://www.aagrapevine.org/gvr>
