From The Archives

San Antonio Archives

Tami S., Archivist

Archives Committee meets the 2nd. Monday of the Month at 6pm in the Fellowship Room

Fellowship Room, 8802 Tradeway, San Antonio, TX 78217

Join us as we seek out the AA history, group history, and our older members, all in San Antonio.

The Archives Room is Located at Central Service Office
8804 Tradeway, San Antonio, TX 78217
Open Monday thru Friday—9am—5pm

Hello from the Archivist,

- Wanted:
1. Enthusiastic listeners for the Oral History Committee
 2. Bilingual AA's to help begin recording our Spanish speaking old-timers in English or Spanish whichever they prefer.
 3. "Things We Cannot Change" is always searching for our members who have passed.

Currently we are in search of Grapevines dated: January and December 1960, and January 1962.

Does your Group record your speaker meetings? Old-timers all over town are telling their stories and this is a fantastic way to capture these stories for years to come. Consider donating them to Archives.

Come see what's new in Archives at the Open House in November at the CSO. I have exciting new areas to explore and enjoy.

I want to thank all of the members who have been volunteering themselves during my Archives workdays every Thursday at the Central Service Office location. I would also like to invite any others interested in this exciting service to come and enjoy San Antonio AA. Each of the subcommittees in Archives is looking for help. Keeping our history alive is multifaceted. Wherever your niche might be, we can find a fit.

Yours in Grateful Service
Tami S., Archivist
San Antonio Archives

Our mission is to document permanently the work of Alcoholics Anonymous in the San Antonio Metropolitan Area, to make that history accessible to A.A. members and other researchers, and to provide a local context for understanding A.A.'s development, principles and 12 Traditions.

"We are trying to build up extensive records which will be of value to a future historian...it is highly important that the factual material be placed in our files in such a way that there can be no substantial distortion.

FUNDING

The San Antonio A.A. Archives is supported financially by the Central Service Office of San Antonio, individual A.A. members, and group contributions; in keeping with Tradition 7 we do not accept contributions from foundations, educational grants or other sources outside of A.A.

Home Group Topics - a series of articles of home group interest

“Crosstalk” in meetings

Does AA have an official description of what exactly constitutes crosstalk? Is it prohibited in AA?

There is no one rule that prohibits “crosstalk” in AA. Many groups have strong customs against crosstalk.

How does your Home Group handle crosstalk?

Here are some of the samples of crosstalk we found in our research

- People speaking out of turn, interrupting someone while they are speaking.
- Giving direct advice to someone in a meeting (unsolicited) about what a member shared.
- Embarrassing lecture to a member during the meeting.
- Interrupting a member and telling them what they see as right or wrong.
- Members frequently interrupt one another for joking comments.
- Using share time to tell someone else what they should be thinking, what you think of them ("You're doing a great job,") what they should do or not do.
- Members commenting under their breath (for everyone to hear) after someone else shares such as mmm hmmm, oh yes i can relate to that, rude noises, oh such a pity etc.

Some results of crosstalk in meetings we found In our research

- Cross talk may be hurtful to a member, shifting total focus onto a person.
- Newcomers need to feel safe in AA meetings.

Thoughts on The Topic

We need to remember that new members (or others attending an open meeting) do not necessarily understand what we mean when we say “no cross-talk during the meeting.” Some may be very eager to share and will respond during another person’s share. Others may be very opinionated (possibly angry) depending on past experience or their possible lack of desire to attend the meeting (court ordered, family pressure, etc.).

How do we as members help our newcomers understand the term crosstalk?

Every Group is Autonomous - Tradition Four

The ultimate arbiter of the subject is the individual group which is free to follow its own customs. What is considered quite proper

Our relations with the general public should be characterized by personal anonymity. We think A.A. ought to avoid sensational advertising. Our names and pictures as A.A. members ought not be broadcast, filmed, or publicly printed. Our public relations should be guided by the principle of attraction rather than promotion. There is never need to praise ourselves. We feel it better to let our friends recommend us.
