The Three Legacies – What do the Three Legacies of AA represent?

Let's Ask Bill W.

The three legacies of AA – recovery, unity and service – in a sense represent three impossibilities, impossibilities that we know became possible, and possibilities that have now borne this unbelievable fruit. Old Fitzmayo, one of the early AA 's and I visited the Surgeon General of the United States in the third year of this society and told him of our beginnings. He was a gentle man, Dr. Lawrence Kolb, and has since become a great friend of AA. He said, "I wish you well. Even the sobriety of a few is almost a miracle. The government knows that this is one of the greatest health problems, but we have considered the recovery of alcoholics so impossible that we have given up and have instead concluded that rehabilitation of narcotic addicts would be the easier job to tackle."

Such was the devastating impossibility of our situation. Now, what has been brought to bear upon this impossibility that it has become possible? First, the grace of Him who presides over all of us. Next, the cruel lash of John Barleycorn who said. "this you must do, or die." Next, the intervention of God through friends, at first a few and now legion! who opened to us, who in the early days were uncommitted, the whole field of human ideas. morality and religion, from which we could choose.

These have been the wellsprings of the forces and ideas and emotions and spirit which were first fused into our Twelve Steps for recovery. Some of us act well, but no sooner had a few got sober than the old forces began to come into play in us rather frail people. They were fearsome, the old forces, the drive for money, acclaim, prestige.

Would these forces tear us apart? Besides, we came from every walk of life. Early, we had begun to be a cross-section of all men and women, all differently conditioned, all so different and yet happily so alike in our kinship of suffering. Could we hold in unity? To those few who remain who lived in those earlier times when the Traditions were being forged in the school of hard experience on its thousands of anvils, we had our very, very dark moments.

About The Nightcap:

The Nightcap is about by and for members of the AA fellowship. Opinions expressed herein are not to be attributed to Alcoholics Anonymous as a whole, nor does publication of any article imply any endorsement by either AA or the Nightcap

(Exceptions: Quotations from AA books, pamphlets, and the 12 Steps and/or 12 Traditions are reprinted with permission of AA World Services Inc. The AA Preamble, slogans, etc. are reprinted with permission of the Grapevine, Inc.)

It was sure recovery was in sight, but how could there be recovery for many? Or how could recovery endure if we were to fall into controversy and so into dissolution and decay?

Well, the spirit of the Twelve Steps which have brought us release from one of the grimmest obsessions known — obviously, this spirit and these principles of retaining grace had to be the fundamentals of our unity. But to become fundamental to our unity, these principles had to be spelled out as they applied to the most prominent and the most grievous of our problems.

So, out of experience came the need to apply the spirit of our steps to our lives of working and living together. These were the forces that generated the Traditions of Alcoholics Anonymous. But we had to have more than cohesion. Even for survival, we had to carry the message and we had to function. In fact, that had become evident in the Twelve Steps themselves for the last one enjoins us to carry the message. But just how would we carry this message? How would we communicate, we few, with those myriad's who still don't know? And how would this communication be handled? How could we do these things. How could we authorize these things in such a way that in this new, hot focus of effort and ego that we would not again be shattered by the forces that had once ruined our lives?

This was the problem of the Third Legacy. From the vital Twelfth Step call right up through our society to its culmination today. And, again, many of us said: "This can't be done. It's all very well for Bill and Bob and a few friends to set up a Board of Trustees and to provide us with some literature and look after our public relations and do all those chores for us that we can't do for ourselves. This is fine, but we can't go any further than that. This is a job for our elders, for our parents. In this direction only, can there be simplicity and security.

And then came the day when it was seen that the parents were both fallible and perishable and Dr. Bob's hour struck and we suddenly realized that this ganglion, this vital nerve center of World Service, would lose its sensation the day the communication between an increasingly unknown Board of Trustees and you were broken. Fresh links would have to be forged. And at that time many of us said: This is impossible, this is too hard. Even in transacting the simplest business, providing the simplest of services, raising the minimum amounts of money, these excitements to us, in this society so bent on survival have been almost too much locally. Look at our club brawls. My God, if we have elections countrywide and Delegates come down here and look at the complexity — thousands of group representatives, hundreds of committeemen, scores of Delegates — my God, when these descend on our parents, the Trustees, what is going to happen then? It won't be simplicity: it can't be. Our experience has spelled it out.

But there was the imperative, the must, and why was there an imperative? Because we had better have some confusion, some politicking, than to have utter collapse of this center. That was the alternative and that was the uncertain and tenuous ground on which the General Service Conference was called into being.

I venture, in the minds of many and sometimes in mine that the Conference could be symbolized by a great prayer and a faint hope. This was the state of affairs in 1945 to 1950. Then came the day when some of us went up to Boston to watch an assembly elect by two-thirds vote or lot a Delegate. Prior to assembly, I consulted all the local politicians and those very wise Irishmen in Boston said, "We're going to make your prediction Bill, you know us temperamentally, but we're going to say that this thing is going to work." That was the biggest piece of news and one of the mightiest assurances that I had up to this time that there could be any survival for these services.

Well, work it has and we have survived another impossibility. Not only have we survived the impossibility, but we have also so far transcended it that there can be no return in future years to the old uncertainties, come what perils there may.

Now, as we have seen in this quick review, the spirit of the Twelve Steps was applied in specific terms to our problems of living and working together. This developed the Twelve Traditions. In turn, the Twelve Traditions were applied to this problem of functioning at world levels in harmony and unity. (10th GSC, April, 1960)

"Your Job now is to be at the place where you may be of maximum helpfulness to others, so never hesitate to go anywhere if you can be helpful." - Alcoholics Anonymous, p. 102

What if you needed a meeting and couldn't get to one?

There may be no greater population of alcoholics in need than those who live behind the walls. They don't have the option of pulling up the AA Meetings app and finding the nearest meeting to fit into a time slot convenient in their schedule. They depend upon you and me to bring a meeting to them, to offer our individual message of experience, strength, and hope.

The purpose of the Correctional Facilities Committee is to coordinate the work of individual AA members and groups who are interested in carrying our message of recovery to alcoholics behind the walls, and to set up means of smoothing the way from the facility to the larger AA community through pre-release and contacts.

How can you help? Be part of a rotation team to carry a meeting into the prison

- Minimum 1 year sobriety
- Get certified (see below)
- Commitment of 1-2 meetings per month, 2 hours per meeting
- Men and women both allowed

You do NOT have to have been incarcerated to carry the message

Correspondence/Sponsorship by Mail Program

- Write and sponsor an inmate

Minimum 1 year sobriety & worked all 12 Steps

Volunteer to be a pre-release AA contact

- Minimum 1 year sobriety & worked all 12 Steps
- Get released individual to a meeting within 24 hours

Responsibility ends at this point

Donate to the CFC can in meetings to aid in the purchase of Big Books for the alcoholic behind the walls, or mail donations to CFC,
PO Box 33866, San Antonio, TX 78265

Be part of the events subcommittee and help organize local and area events.

Just come to a CFC meeting and listen – we'll find a way for you to be involved and be of service!

- 3) Scroll down to "How Do I Become a Volunteer" and click on this link
- 4) Click on first item: "How do I become a volunteer..."
- 5) Click on "Volunteer Application" and fill it out
- 6) Submit Clearance Form
- 7) As soon as you are cleared, follow instructions for taking Required Training (online)
- 8) Once you are notified of your certification, call the local CFC contact to get started: Anne Adkins 512-922-2178

Take the first step!

We invite you to the next bi-monthly meeting of the SAIS CFC. We meet at the St Francis Episcopal Church, 4242 Bluemel Road in San Antonio. Several meetings are scheduled simultaneously at this same location -- look for the CFC sign, and come on in!

Please help us deliver the message of hope...

BOARD REPORTS

Liaison Report - Mike G. - Noted that the Spanish Liaison chair position will NOT be filled as other arrangements are being made.

Financial Report - Sheila - Budget numbers look good with Income @ 107% & Gross Profit @ 116% (YTD). It was noted that there are a few Expenses paid at the beginning of year (Jan-March) In "lump sum" (vs. pro-rated over 12 mos.), so actual Expense are in-line with budget on an annualized-basis.

The report was unanimously approved after a motion by John t and a second by Conrad.

Weekend In S.A. - Eric - Saturday October 29th, 2022, is the date and this is a fun service opportunity. PLEASE encourage your groups members to contact Eric or Dani to volunteer. The first weekend in S.A. fundraiser is a great 3/30 Shepherd's Pie dinner ($10 tickets available online VENMO) with a "Pass It On" panel discussion at Club 12. ALSO, the 2022 AA Fiesta medal is available.

Inter-service Report - Mike - Jeff S. is the new Treatment Committee chairman. The Grapevine still needs a chairperson - contact Mike (sainterservice.org) and/or join him Sun. 3/27 for monthly meeting.

Correctional Facilities- Anne A. - This committee offers one of the most fulfilling opportunities to carry the message to men and women suffering "behind bars" and in need of AA MEETINGS & SUPPORT.

Volunteers provided > 1200 Big Books, 200 sponsors & answered > 360 inmate letters in 2021. Of the 726,000 people convicted/sentenced to jail or supervision, SIXTY PER CENT have ALCOHOL and/or DRUG related issues. The correction facilities are rife with drugs/alcohol. We reach ONLY 2% of these men & women.

Please contact Anne (512-922-2178) to volunteer. She will provide a detailed flier to Virginia for all CSO's to share at meetings.

Manager's Report - Jim - PLEASE check group meeting information (aasanantonio.org) as it flows to the meeting APP that most people rely on for meeting information. The CSO computer system was "hacked" 2x's recently with nearly 1000 of the 1053 list of meetings being temporarily mis-directed. Jim will investigate other security measures if this continues to be a problem. A portion of the CSO office needs remodeling (see P&L report for details) and Jim has new QuickBooks software to aid his bookkeeping.

NEW OR OLD BUSINESS

New Business - Bruce made a motion to revisit the idea of returning to the "live - in person" meeting format and Conrad seconded the motion. Jim will add this agenda item for discussion and a vote at the next CSO meeting in April.

Meeting Closed with the Lord's Prayer

Secretary - Phyllis
