12 Tips for Sober Holidays

BY: ADAPTED FROM BOX 4-5-9

- Line up extra AA activities (help on the phones, speak, empty the ashtrays).
- Be host to friends, especially newcomers, at home or at a coffee shop.
- Keep your AA telephone list with you at all times.
- Find out about holiday meetings or celebrations in your local groups.
- Skip any drinking occasions you're nervous about.
- If there's one you can't skip, take an AA friend--or keep candy handy.
- Don't think you have to stay late (plan an "important date" in advance).
- Go to church. Any church. And don't forget about extra meetings.
- Don't sit around brooding; catch up on reading, museums, walks, letters.
- Don't project holiday temptations: remember "One day at a time."
- Even if you cannot give material gifts, enjoy the beauty of holiday love.
- Carry the message. Give the joy away, and it will be yours to keep.

Chairperson's Corner

Safe Passage Excerpt

Now comes the question: Where do we go from here and what is our responsibility for today and for tomorrow? ...

Of course, we may be certain that this will be a slow business. But we also know we can never take our plodding progress as the slightest alibi for setting ourselves second-rate goals. Our high aim can be emotional sobriety, full emotional maturity—and that's good. However, I think most of us may prefer a still larger definition, one with a still broader and higher reach. Perhaps there can be no "relative" in the universe unless somewhere there is an "absolute." To most of us this "absolute" is "God as we understand him." We feel that we were born to this life to grow—if only a little—toward that likeness and image. However small and prudent our next immediate step on the path of progress may be, we of AA can never set any hampering limitation upon the ultimate destiny of ourselves and our Fellowship, nor any whatever upon God's love for us all. Individually and collectively, structurally and spiritually, we shall ever need to build for the future. We are still laying down the foundation on which all coming generations of AAs will have to stand, perhaps for centuries.

Our fellowship has been permitted to achieve—though still in miniature—the "one world" dream of philosophers. Ours is a world in which we can hotly differ, yet never think of schism or conflict as a solution. As a fellowship we ask nothing of wealth or power. As we better use the "language of the heart," our communications grow apace: already we find ourselves in safe passage through all those barriers of distance and language, of social distinction, nationality and creed, that so divide the world of our time.

For so long as we remain sure that our "one world of AA" is God's gift rather than any virtue earned or created by ourselves; and for so long as our "one world" continues to be ever more inclusive of those in need; and for so long as we speak and try to perfect the language of love—for just so long may we count upon making whatever rendezvous with destiny that God would have us.

Twelve Tips on Keeping your Holiday Season Sober & Joyous

Holiday parties without liquid spirits may still seem a dreary prospect to a newcomer. But many of us have enjoyed the happiest holidays of our lives sober—an idea we would never dream of, want, or believe possible when we were drinking. Here are some tips for having an all around terrific time without a drop of alcohol!

1. Line up extra AA activities for the holiday season. Arrange to take newcomers to meetings, answer the phones on the Hotline, or go to a meeting in a treatment center or correctional facility.

5. Skip all drinking occasions you are nervous about. Remember how clever you were at excuses when drinking? Now you can put that talent to good use. No office party is as important as saving your life.

9. Do you find that you're sitting around brooding? Catch up on those books, museums, walks, or call an old friend.

2. Be host to AA friends, especially newcomers. If you don't have a place where you can have people over, take one person out for lunch or coffee.

6. If you have to go to a drinking party and can't take an AA friend with you, keep some candy handy.

10. If you find yourself getting worked up about all those holiday temptations, Remember – "One Day at a Time".

3. Keep your AA phone list with you at all times. If a drinking urge or panic comes, postpone everything else until you've called your sponsor or an AA member.

7. You don't have to stay late. Plan in advance an "important date" you have to keep, and leave early.

11. Enjoy the true beauty of holiday love and joy. Maybe you can't give material gifts – but this year, you can give love.

4. Find out about the special holiday parties, meetings, or other celebrations given by groups in your area, and go. If you're timid, take someone newer than you are.

8. Go to church. Any church.

12. "Having had a spiritual awakening as a" No need to spell out the Twelfth Step here, since you already know it!

Attraction vs. Promotion:

How We in A.A. Interact with Family,
Friends and in our Community

Questions you will get answered:

How does A.A. attract new members into our meeting rooms?

Does A.A. REALLY have a public relations policy?

What should we share and NOT share in public about the A.A. program?

How does Anonymity fit into community outreach?

Can individual members share their story with family, friends, healthcare providers, clergy and employers? WHEN, WHY and HOW should they?

What are some of the common misconceptions the public has about A.A.?

What is PI/CPC and who OKs their work?

Lord make me an instrument of your peace, Where there is hatred let me sow love.

Where there is injury, pardon.

Where there is doubt, faith. Where there is despair, hope.

Where there is darkness, light. And where there is sadness, joy. O divine master grant that I may not so much seek to be consoled as to console; To be understood as to understand; TO be loved as to Love For it is in giving that we receive-it is in pardoning that we are pardoned.
