TO ALL WHO RECEIVE THE NIGHTCAP

We need your help—you might even consider your help as being 12 Step work. What can you do? Something needs to be done to increase subscriptions to THE NIGHTCAP. In the past, when THE NIGHTCAP was free, 1500 people received a copy. Due to the fact that the Central Service Office continually loses money, the Board of Trustees decided to charge $6.00/yr to subscribe. About 1100 people came to the conclusion they could get along without their copy. They had other use for fifty cents a month.

Would you please:

- ◆ Ask your sponsor to subscribe?
- ◆ Ask your sponsee to subscribe?
- ◆ Ask your friends to subscribe?
- ◆ Give someone a gift copy?
- ◆ Ask your group to subscribe?

and having ears, hear you not?

Alcoholics are a lot like Generals. When a man makes General and pins on his stars, his ears fall off. He doesn't have to listen to anyone anymore.

When we pass over that "compulsion line" and become powerless over alcohol, not only can we not stop drinking, we can no longer hear.

My sponsor said "Jim, if we could get you to listen, you could actually get sober! But booze has made you an "expert" on everything and you can't hear what we're trying to tell you. You probably won't make it."

I could not hear what he was trying to say. No one had ever talked to me like that. I felt insulted, discouraged, angry and stupid. How could a "garbage man" make me feel inferior? (My sponsor was a Sanitation Engineer—he dealt in garbage. He knew all about it. In A.A., he was a very busy getting rid of it, and helping others get rid of theirs.)

My garbage man tried his best to help me get rid of mine, but I could not do it. I couldn't even find my "can" because I couldn't hear what he was trying to say: "Get rid of the garbage and listen to us."

It is terrible to sit in an A.A. meeting and not know what people are laughing about! Not even know what they are talking about. To be surrounded by happy faces, and to see people get 30-day chips and birthday cakes. I would have given $1,000 for a one-year birthday cake!!

Everybody laughed when I told them I was looking forward to getting my birthday cake. I asked why they were laughing. One of them said, "Jim, you will never get a birthday cake! You have to stay sober for one year. You keep getting drunk every six months. You see?? It's impossible!"

But why can't I stay sober? "Because you are not listening to us! You're looking around the room—checking your watch to see when the meeting will be over. When it comes your turn to talk, all you do is tell us a bunch of lies. Besides that, you don't even empty your ashtray."

I never emptied my ashtray! A.A. was telling me that I couldn't stay sober unless I emptied my ashtray, so I don't get a birthday cake! I was absolutely convinced I had joined a program for crazy people. No one would give me a straight answer. The answers I did get made no sense at all. Everyone seemed to be doing well except me.

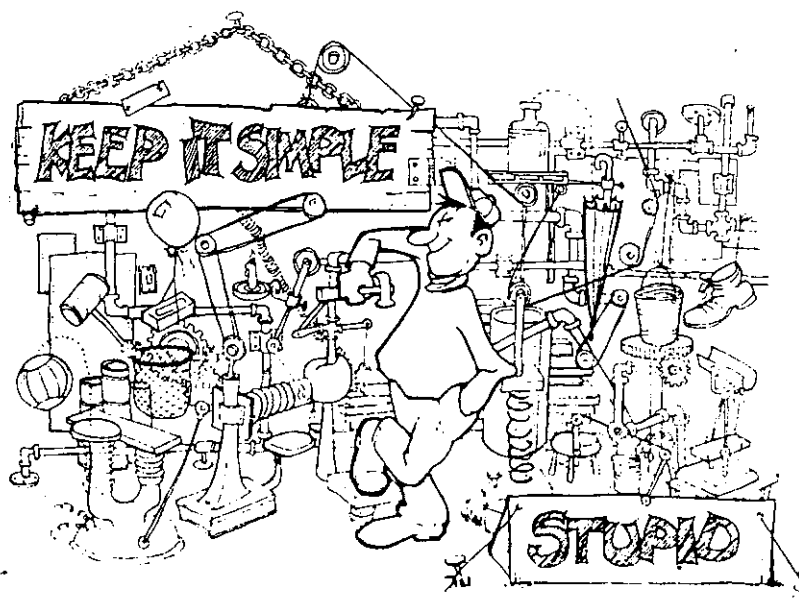

I asked everybody: "What makes A.A. work?" They always said: "We don't know." "You've got to know! Somebody is bound to know! What do all these signs mean? Who is in charge? Who makes these cookies? Why doesn't somebody tell me something??" They all just stared at me and said, "You are really sick. Why don't you start your own group?"

Just for the heck of it, I emptied my ashtray one night after a meeting. I had the funniest feeling that everyone was looking at me. I turned around. They were. I straightened a few chairs, and some lady dropped her purse. I knew something very big was happening but I couldn't put my finger on it. I went over to the literature rack and someone had changed all the pamphlets! They all made sense! My sponsor came over and said, "Are you O.K.?" I looked at him and noticed he had blue eyes—I even heard what he said!!

I've been sober over 16 years! I got a birthday cake! I still don't understand what happened, but I know the Higher Power opened my ears, my eyes and my heart, the night I gave myself to this simple program; while I was in utter darkness and emptied an ashtray of garbage, just because you suggested it.

The Eighth Tradition
Alcoholics Anonymous should remain forever nonprofessional, but our service centers may employ special workers.

Spiritual as it is, A.A. remains very much of this world. The Eighth Tradition, like the Seventh, focuses on a vulgar five-letter word that isn't actually mentioned in either: money. Many of us have had to explain to some cynical prospect, "No, I'm not a social worker. I don't get paid for talking with you. I'm doing it because it's the best way to stay sober myself."

This does not mean, of course, that the idea of turning professional has never entered any A.A.'s mind. In the lean years, Bill W. did think of becoming a lay therapist to earn money through his experience in helping alcoholics. But, with a strong nudge from the group conscience, he soon realized that he could never hang out a shingle reading "Bill W., A.A. Therapist, $10 an Hour"! It became clear to the early members that no A.A. should ever ask or accept payment for "carrying this message to somebody else, person to person and face to face."

But new questions arose as membership grew and the word of hope spread, sending thousands of alcoholics in search of A.A. The first intergroups or central offices were usually manned by A.A. volunteers; now, most such offices are so busy that full-time employees are needed as well. Naturally, A.A.'s are better suited to such jobs than are nonmembers—but are these A.A.'s then being paid for doing Twelfth Step work? No. In the office, they are just paving the way for this work. Arranging to get a sick drunk into a hospital, telling a shaky newcomer where the nearest meeting is tonight, they are helping to make it possible for that alcoholic to hear the message "person to person and face to face."

A similar development has taken place at the Fellowship's "headquarters." Once a tiny office for one co-founder (Bill) and one secretary, it has grown into the present General Service Office, fully staffed, with a big mailroom keeping the lines of communication open throughout A.A. worldwide. The employees, both A.A. and nonalcoholic, are paid on a scale comparable to that in profit-making enterprises, so that the office force can function dependably. And the A.A. staff members are in exactly the same position as the A.A. intergroup employees. Suppose you drop in at G.S.O. one day when you're in New York. Staff members who pause to chat with you may have been working on next year's Conference or corresponding with a group in your home area, helping it to carry the message more effectively. For that, they are paid with biweekly checks. But you may also hear them mention to other staff members plans for taking a newcomer to a meeting in the evening or for giving an A.A. talk to a neighborhood group the next week. For that, they are paid only with their own continuing sobriety.

In these office jobs and in other assignments, members are actually paid for their business and professional skills. Working at a G.S.O. desk, on Conference-approved books and pamphlets, or on the Grapevine, these A.A.'s use their abilities as correspondents, managers, writers, editors, artists, proofreaders—as well as their understanding of A.A. from the inside. On occasion, volunteers have given their time and talent to all these services, and their contributions are deeply appreciated. But what if the Fellowship decided that all such assignments should be handled only by unpaid volunteers? In present-day A.A., there's too great a volume of work to be done in spare hours here and there, and only the rich or the retired could afford to work full-time. If we tried to find in this limited group people qualified for particular tasks, obviously the field would be narrowed down—too often, down to nobody at all.

This page, "The Eighth Tradition," was reprinted (and cut up) with permission of A. A. World Services, Inc.

There would be another problem in using volunteers alone: It seems ungrateful—or, at least, it's socially awkward—to criticize or reject a job done for free. But paid jobs for A.A. get quite a going-over! Take our literature, for instance (like this pamphlet). Whatever the subject, we want to be sure that each piece expresses as clearly as possible the view of the group conscience of A.A. as a whole. So any new project must first be approved by the Conference. Once it is in process, the Literature Committee of the General Service Board keeps a careful eye on it at every stage. Frequently, drastic changes are required. The "finished" product then must be okayed both by that committee and by the Conference Literature Committee, and further revisions are often—

"Now wait a minute!" some old-timer may interrupt. "What's going on here? Didn't Dr. Bob say, 'Let's keep it simple?'" ...
