YOUR CSO OFFICE MANAGER REPORTS

Friends: Over the next several issues, we will be reporting on what was learned at the September seminar for CSO/Intergroup Managers.

How other offices differ in their operation; how their particular successes and concerns can benefit us, is our pleasure to share with you.

Subjects covered will range from "Literature Sales," "Committee Work," "Contributions vs. Donations," to the somewhat age-old dispute of "Attraction vs. Promotion."

Any questions you may have surface as a result of the series, should be addressed to YOUR CSO manager.

Lynn T.

COMMENTS AND SUGGESTIONS

Please keep comments and suggestions on 12-Step After-Hours Telephone folders coming!

Some suggestions received recently are: Color in map as to what area NE, NW, NC, etc., covers on meeting lists. That's a grand idea, but at this time our copier is in black and white.

Also, since we update the meeting directories every 6 months, we could add a meeting change page to the folders with current information.

Question was: Do we have information on Adult Children of Alcoholics? No, we refer those asking about ACOA to Al-Anon.

Thanks,

Mary at CSO

ALL MY BEST--FROM AN INSIDER

"Things are going well on this day and I am just grateful to be alive and be part of sobriety. You (San Antonio AAs) have taught me so much and it is a pleasure to be part of Alcoholics Anonymous.

"I'm just starting to sponsor people and it's sort of scary. I never know if I say the right thing, so I try and let God guide me through; that way I feel the message is delivered the way it has been so freely given to me."

"I look forward every month for you guys to come up and share with a bunch of guys who have drank their way into prison. All of the San Antonio AAs have to be some of the most caring people I've met in recovery, for that matter, in my life. I was a sick and trouble man when I came to prison, and I really didn't feel I would ever make it out alive. (I was introduced) to my first meeting in here. (I) was told about the steps and about the phenomenal craving, the well-known spree, etc., things I could have never known doing it 'my way'."

"Please say hello to all who know us over here, and to those we've yet to meet..."

"I love you. All my best, Chuck"

HOW DO YOU THINK OF GOD?

(Author unknown)

At first I saw God as my observer, my judge, keeping track of the things I did wrong, so as to know whether I merited heaven or hell when I die. He was out there sort of like the President. I recognized his picture when I saw it, but I didn't really know him.

But, later on when I recognized my Higher Power, it seemed as though life was rather like a bike ride, but it was a tandem bike, and I noticed that God was in the back helping me pedal.

I don't know just when it was that he suggested we change places, but life has not been the same since, life with my Higher Power, that is. God makes life exciting!

When I had control, I knew the way. It was rather boring and predictable. It was the shortest distance between two points. But when he took the lead, he knew delightful long cuts, up mountains, and through rocky places and at breakneck speed; it was all I could do to hang on! Even though it looked like madness, he said, "Pedal!"

I worried and was anxious and asked, "Where are you taking me?" He laughed and didn't answer, and I started to learn to trust. I forgot my boring life and entered into the adventure. And when I'd say, "I'm scared," he'd lean back and touch my hand.

He took me to people with gifts that I needed, gifts for healing, acceptance, and joy. They gave me their gifts to take on my journey, our journey, God's and mine.

And we were off again. He said, "Give the gifts away; they're extra baggage, too much weight." So I did, to the people we met, and I found that in giving I received, and still our burden was light.

I did not trust him at first, in control of my life. I thought he'd wreck it. But he knows bike secrets, knows how to make it bend to take sharp corners, jump to clear high rocks, fly to shorten scary passages.

And I am learning to shut up and pedal in the strangest places, and I'm beginning to enjoy the view and the cool breeze on my face with my delightful constant companion, my Higher Power.

And when I'm sure I just can't do any more, he just smiles and says--"Pedal."

Concept XI

While the trustees hold final responsibility for A.A.'s world service administration, they should always have the assistance of the best possible standing committees, corporate service directors, executives, staffs and consultants. Therefore, the composition of these underlying committees and service boards, the personal qualifications of their members, the manner of their induction into service, the systems of their rotation, the way in which they are related to each other, the special rights and duties of our executives, staffs and consultants, together with a proper basis for the financial compensation of these special workers, will always be matters for serious care and concern.

In this, the second longest of the Concepts, Bill explains in great detail the composition, functions and relationships of the standing committees of the General Service Board, its subsidiary operating boards, the General Service Office and the A.A. Grapevine—as they existed in 1962. As A.A. has grown and changed, many of the descriptions would be different today, and some of the issues that are addressed are no longer relevant. Nevertheless, the full text is valuable as an historical document, and many of the principles still apply, as summarized below.

Underlying the service structure we have been discussing, there is another, internal structure of service consisting of the nontrustee members of the trustees' committees; the nontrustee directors of the two operating boards, and the executives and staff members. "Members of this group," declares Bill, "not only support the leadership of the trustees: they share leadership with them."

The following are "several principles...which" apply to A.A. World Services, Inc. and the A.A. Grapevine, Inc.:

1. The status of executives

No active service can function well unless it has sustained and competent executive direction. This must always head up in one person, supported by such assistants as he needs. That person has to have ample freedom and authority to do his job, and he should not be interfered with so long as his work is done well.

Reprinted with permission of A. A. World Services, Inc.

2. Paid workers, how compensated

Each paid executive, staff member or consultant should be recompensed in reasonable relation to the value of his or her similar services or abilities in the commercial world.... Cheap help is apt to feel insecure and inefficient. It is very costly in the long run. This is neither good spirituality nor good business. Assuming service money is available, we should therefore compensate our workers well.

It's like musical hats!

3. Rotation among paid staff workers

At A.A.'s General Service Office, most staff members' assignments are changed every two years. When engaged, each staff member is expected to possess the general ability to do, or to learn how to do, any job in the place—excepting for office management.

Remember our worker in Concept IV.

4. Full "Participation" of paid workers is highly important

We have already discussed the necessity of giving key paid personnel a voting representation on our committees and corporate boards. They should enjoy a status suitable to their responsibility, just as our volunteers do.
