What's Happening

Thank You, to all the Volunteers who made Weekend in SA with AA a huge success

You overcame the challenges of having a new location, and you made it work wonderfully. The Central Service Office really appreciates your hard work and dedication. A special thank you to Pastor Steve, who went above and beyond to make this event a success. Again, thanks to the many volunteers.

With gratitude from the Central Service Office

THE CORRECTIONS COMMITTEE OF AA NEEDS YOUR HELP

The mission of the Correctional Facilities Committee (CFC) is to carry the message of recovery behind the walls of our jails and prisons. We do this by attending AA meetings inside the walls throughout South Central Texas. There, we share our experience, strength, and hope--just like you, as a member of AA, does at any meeting you attend. A big part of our sharing, though, is providing AA Big Books. We hand out around 800 books a year, no questions asked. It's prisoners' window to another way of life.

We are completely dependent on the generosity of local members like you to provide inmates Big Books and other literature. Yes, we are self-supporting. But we have members willing to match all donations to our Big Book fund, so any contribution gets double bang for your buck!

As you know, the cost of all AA literature has greatly increased. We're asking you to pass the CFC Green Can around your home group at least monthly to help us buy more books to give out. Instructions on where to send it or who to call should be on the cans.

Think where you'd be without a Big Book. Please be generous. Think of the freedom you have!

PRIVATE - ANONYMOUS- TRUSTWORTHY

The Fourth Tradition

Each group should be autonomous except in matters affecting other groups or A.A. as a whole.

There are all kinds of groups. . .
Little groups. . .

But wherever two or more alcoholics are gathered together to practice A.A. principles, it is an A.A. group if they say it is.

And you are a member if you say you are!

A member who does any amount of traveling finds the A.A. spirit much the same everywhere. But apart from this inward kinship, there are vast differences among groups. Here, the traveler finds three members discussing the Steps in somebody's living room; there, 300 listening to speakers in a church auditorium. In one part of the U.S., respectful silence greets the speaker who begins, "My name is Ann, and I am an alcoholic." In another, everybody happily shouts, "Hi, Ann!" And in many other places, she may introduce herself with her full name — at a one-hour meeting or a 90-minute meeting. In each neighborhood in every part of the world reached by A.A., the local group is free to work out its own customs.

As always, freedom brings responsibility. Because each group is autonomous, it's up to each group to avoid any action that might harm A.A. And there have been such actions — or this Tradition would be unnecessary. "Implicit throughout A.A.'s Traditions," Bill W. wrote, "is the confession that our Fellowship has its sins. We admit that we have character defects as a society and these defects threatens us continually."

Blown up to multiple size, the Big Ego may inspire one group to take over all the public information work for its area, without consulting any of the other local groups. Once the group has decided, "We have all the answers," the lid's off. The group may then decide that, let's say, the Eleventh Tradition is an outdated technicality: "This is a competitive age! We're going to come right out and give A.A. some good, vigorous promoting!" To the general public, this one conspicuous group is A.A. Its antics reflect, not only on the ignored neighboring groups, but on the entire Fellowship.

In a way, the Fourth Tradition is like the Fourth Step: It suggests that the A.A. group should take honest inventory of itself, asking about each of its independently planned actions, "Would this break any Tradition?" Like the individual member who chooses to make the Steps his or her guide toward happy sobriety, the wise group recognizes that the Traditions are not hindering technicalities — they are proved guides toward the chief objective of all A.A. groups....

and big groups...

and off-beat groups...
